Between Bannon and Brohm

Recreation director debate in council

Dysart et al council will be deciding on June 13 whether or not the municipality will hire a recreation director, but a heated debate on Monday, between the two senior members of the council, could mean that the decision will not be an easy one.

Deputy Reeve, Harold Bannon started the debate by asking what the council is planning on doing about a recreation director. He suggested that a resolution be "passed" around the table to see what is going to happen.

He said that either the council will "go for it or not go for it but there is no use hanging on to this all summer long".

Councillor, Roy Brohm, said that he cannot see hiring a recreation director when the recreation committee is in the hole already.

He admitted that he was not in favour of hiring a director.

$13,000 DEFICIT

Councillor Brohm said that there is a $13,000 deficit already at the arena, which he claims is due to mismanagement. He noted that there is "no promotion" at the arena. He suggested that perhaps an arena manager is needed rather than a recreation director.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said that perhaps the $13,000 figure was not correct because the auditors were not finished with the municipalities books, but Deputy Reeve Bannon agreed with the figure.

Deputy Reeve Bannon suggested that perhaps the council should try a recreation director for a year and if the person wasn't working out, he could be let go.

Councillor Brohm said that the municipality has tried a recreation director on two occasions and noted that he fired both of them. Deputy Reeve Bannon said he was in on the firing of one director.

Deputy Reeve Bannon told the council that the hiring of a recreation director should be handled by the recreation committee.

Reeve Fearrey asked if the recreation committee could pay a recreation director's salary. Deputy Reeve Bannon admitted that it could not.

FURTHER STUDY

Reeve Fearrey, Councillor McKnight, Councillor Brohm and Councillor Jack Denholm agreed with a letter from the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association that a committee should be formed to see if there is a need for a recreation director.

Reeve Fearrey suggested that the municipality find out the economics of having a recreation director rather than "making a snap decision".

Councillor Gary McKnight said he doesn't know what to do to make the arena a paying proposition but a recreation director hired in the summer certainly won't help.

Deputy Reeve Bannon said, "By the next meeting of council I will put a motion on the floor", about a recreation director. He said that this will allow one more month of investigation.

Senior units scheduled to be constructed next spring

A tentative schedule for the construction of senior citizen housing units, in Haliburton village, has been set at spring of 1978 but that could be moved up.

Sid Palmer, a representative of the Ministry of Housing, was at Monday's meeting of Dysart et al's council to discuss senior citizen housing and geared to income housing.

Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey, asked Mr. Palmer when the project could get started.

Mr. Palmer said that the closing of the site has been delayed until the Ministry of Environment finishes doing tests on the quality of the water.

The site is on Mountain Street, behind the Anglican Church.

Mr. Palmer said that the schedule as of this time calls for the land acquisition in June, modified tender call in October and a construction start in the spring of next year.

Deputy Reeve, Harold Bannon, said that he thought the construction would be done this year.

Mr. Palmer replied that if the dates can be moved up they will be.

He said that there is a preliminary design for the building and told the council that all 34 units planned may not fit on the site.

The 34 units were decided on by a need study conducted in the municipality this year.

A study conducted two years ago showed a need for 21 units.

Council passed two resolutions Monday, one to accept the updated needs study and the other to agree to pay 7.5 percent of the operational subsidy costs.

The subsidy on the operational costs of the units are paid 50 percent by the federal government, 42.5 percent by the provincial government, with the municipality picking up the rest.

The tenants in the building will pay 25 percent of their income towards rent.

Councillor, Jack Denholm, expressed some concern that all 34 units would not be included on the site and asked Mr. Palmer if the units that were not included would be put on another site.

Mr. Palmer admitted that from a practical point of view it would not make sense because of management problems.

Reeve Fearrey told Mr. Palmer that there is a "tremendous need" in the community. He said that the municipality has people coming forward every day inquiring about senior citizen housing

Arbitrators wait for new assessment figures

An arbitration of county clerks and treasurers held last Tuesday, May 3, resolved in an unexpected that the appeal for a re-adjustment of the 1977 Board of Education levy will go no further until new assessment figures are released by the Regional Assessment Office.

The figures are to be released in the near future by the Ministry of Revenue, the clerks were assured.

In this third appeal to reapportion assessments, the arbitration of clerks and treasurers was expected to end as it has twice before with the refusal of the majority of clerks to consider negotiating the apportionment. The matter goes to the Ontario Municipal Board if the clerks don't agree unanimously on apportionment.

Stanhope clerk Gerald Bain, representing one of the appealing townships, noted that the 6-4 decision to wait for further arbitration until the most recent assessment figures indicated that some of the clerks were acknowledging the inequalities in present assessments and apportionments.

Monmouth and Bicroft clerks Sharon Hunter and Sandra McColl this year added their two votes to total six in favor of further arbitration.

Dysart et al clerk Wayne Woode, who was one of the four who voted against the resolution, noted that the arbitrators may try to arrive at some settlement, but "as far as we're concerned, there was no new information provided."

He suggested that the arbitration will be "an

With just enough clearance, four-year old Brian Waller hoists the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band Drum to help his father Fred Waller play for the Scottish Country Dancers, Monday evening at the Legion Hall. Brian played faithfully while the dancers practised for the Festival of Fun to be held May 19 at the secondary school. The evening is a talent festival sponsored by the Scouts, an organization that may be able to take Brian in before the banks puts him on ful time. The Festival will raise money to send Minden and Haliburton Scouts to P.E.I. for the Canadian Scouting Jamboree and includes choirs, gymnastics, bands and dramatic performances, as well as the Scottish dancing.

Honorary diploma to be given to Ronald J. Curry

Ronald Curry

Ronald Curry, a well known Haliburton Village resident, will become the third person in the 10 year history of Sir Sandford Fleming College to receive an honorary degree.

Mr. Curry will receive his award at the convocation ceremonies in Lindsay May 14.

The second recipient of an honorary diploma from the college was Henry Nokes, of Peterborough, who received his award last Saturday. Both Mr. Nokes and Mr. Curry are former members of the board of governors of the college.

Mr. Curry joined the Board in 1968, as one of the first representatives of Haliburton County, and was elected chairman of the Board in 1971. He also has a long history of community service in Haliburton County, including terms as councillor and reeve of the Municipality of Dysart, and as Warden of Haliburton County. He held top posts with the secondary school board there, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts.

Mr. Nokes was the labour representative on the original Board of Governors set up in 1966 to establish a College of Applied Arts and Technology in east-central Ontario, and was elected the first chairman of the separate board created for Sir Sandford Fleming College in 1968. He currently is a member of the Ontario Council of Regents, the governing body for all Colleges in the province.

The College's first honorary diploma was awarded in 1970 to former President and Vice-chancellor of Trent University, Thomas H.B. Symons, who was also a member of the first Sir Sandford Fleming Board.

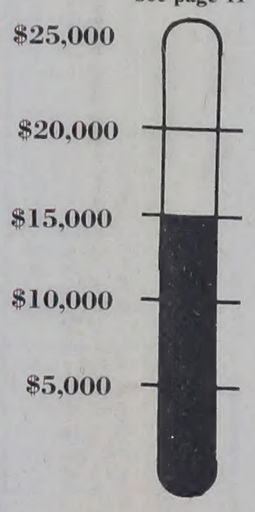
Fellowships in Applied Education will be awarded to James E. Girven, of Peterborough, and Gwynneth Hoag, of Lindsay at the Peterborough ceremony, and to Frank E. Banks, of Lindsay, at the Lindsay convocation.

The Fellowships are available annually, and recognize citizens from any field of endeavour for significant accomplishments through the outstanding practical application of knowledge in any trade, vocation or profession, including community service.

Mr. Girven, who joined the Canadian General Electric Company in Peterborough in 1923 as an apprentice and became chief executive officer of that company in 1951, will receive the fellowship for his outstanding contribution to the welfare of the community through leadership with the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. and a number of other organizations.

Mrs. Hoag has played a major role in the development of quality child care centres in East Central Ontario, and particularly in Peterborough. Among other activities, she was supervisor of the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. early childhood education program, supervisor of the Lester B. Pearson Day Care Centre, and director of day care in the City of Peterborough.

Mr. Banks is bandmaster of the Lindsay Kinsmen band, and since 1954 this avocation has influenced the lives of about 500 Lindsay young people. Under his leadership, the band has won many awards, and has become known outside Ontario for its excellence.



A total of $25 has been added to the Dysart Community Centre Fund. The fund has now reached $15,030 for the improvements and repairs for the building. Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

Glee Club production a smashing success

by Susan McLaughlin

The opening night cast of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Glee Club's production of Ruddigore took Gilbert and Sullivan's less than successful musical that was heavily censured when it first appeared over 90 years ago, and turned it into a smashing success on the Haliburton stage.

As explained by the play's talented director, Bill Gliddon, Ruddigore or The Witch's Curse was not well received by its first British audience for a number of reasons, chiefly, one suspects, because the audience was not willing to laugh at itself.

The script and score of the musical turn a bright comic light into everything from manners of young ladies who rigorously follow a book of etiquette to the Royal navy that is so kind as to spare French ships that they prefer not to engage. Written after Gilbert and Sullivan's highly successful Mikado, Ruddigore also pokes fun at the style of the musical itself.

The bad Baron's crew is described as mad because they sing choruses in public, and a song in the second act asserts that the rapid, unintelligble patter that stands as a trademark of Gilbert and Sullivan scores, isn't usually heard so nothing really matters in the end anyway.

In the face of all this light hearted chatter and lively music that follows the antics of Rose Maybud's attempts to find a suitably polite husband, and two brothers' attempts to overcome the witch's curse that has been put upon their baronetcy, the original British audience apparently recoiled in horror. The curse demands that a cruel deed be done each day be the baronet, perhaps not a laughing matter. Mr. Gliddon explained that the Glee Club took it as a challenge to produce Ruddigore, which they feel is one of Gilbert and Sullivan's best efforts, and make it every bit as good and enjoyable as other scripts by the same authors.

Thanks both to the talent or the cast and the quality of the script, they more than succeeded.

In the hands of Richard Stouffer cast in the lead role of Sir Ruthven on opening night, the part of the cruel baronet becomes side-splittingly funny. From his first appearance as a shy and

Dysart wants to limit group homes

Dysart et al will attempt to limit the number of group homes in the area by instituting a system of licensing for such establishments.

After meeting with Mrs. Raymond Gervais, a Toronto woman who, along with her husband, intends to bring their family of 10 foster children and three children to Dysart, the municipal council passed two resolutions, one to inquire about the possibility of setting up a licensing system and the other that the Gervais application be held in abeyance until a number of things can be decided.

In a letter to the council Mrs. Gervais said, "We have made an offer to purchase Dell Haven Guest Home".

She said that there seems to be some controversy as to whether they can operate as a group home. "Sir, could you not substitute the word group home for Family?" she suggested.

Mrs. Gervais pointed out in the letter that if the children were all her family the council could not refuse

Tribute to memory of local resident

In answer to the many inquiries concerning the teaching career of the late Mrs. Emily Loucks, the local Unit of the Superannuated Teachers of Ontario offer a tribute to her memory.

As Miss Emily Hunter, she came to the area in 1924 and taught in her first school, S.S. No. 1 Minden, for two years, until her marriage. Following World War II she returned to teaching and became well - known and highly regarded.

She taught in several local schools, some of which are no longer area landmarks. The schools, Scotch Line, Gelert, Lutterworth, Norland were fortunate to have been guided by her dedicated spirit.

As an active member of the Teachers' Federation she will be sorely missed.

News from Extendicare

BY CHARLES PLEWMAN

Life at Extendicare is moving along much as usual. Most of us can scarcely wait until we can spend more time out of doors where there are so many interesting things to do. We have had some nice weather, but with it cool breezes. The staff continues to be most helpful and the volunteers likewise. Games, exercises, Bingo and transplanting have all been well attended. The Happy Gang met Wednesday morning. Right now they are busy working on the Parkland Project. The shuffleboard court should be ready soon and an area of about 20 x 20 feet will be filled in with top soil for vegetable plots. Work will soon commence on the brick barbecue.

The Parkland Project sponsored by New Horizons is for the use of persons 60 and over living in this area. We hope the Over 60 Club and the city wide organization will take advantage of these facilities with picnics etc. The facilities also include carpet bowling, darts, card games and movies. Many flower plants grown in our flourescent units will be moved into raised wooden plots that can be looked after by persons in wheel chairs. We are indebted to Dr. Anderson and Ray Smith for their leadership. If you are over 60, come up soon and look us over. You may find this an excellent place to spend spare time. I should say that the brick barbeque will make is possble to serve groups up to 75 promptly. We have also a kitchenette.

LAWN BOWLING We have a space here that could be used for lawn bowling. If there is anyone who has a set of balls that they would give or let go at a nominal price, kindly let me know.

Rev. Ron Thornton of Minden Gospel Church presided over our Devotional Period on Friday, May 6th. He said God cares and understands us. He is the Divine Keeper -- the keeper of the Universe. Best of all he is our keeper.

I have been writing this column for over a year but it looks right now that I will have to give it up, at least for the present. My vision is very poor and tomorrow I will be seeing a specialist in Toronto. He will decide on whether they should operate. I want to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the encouragement that so many of you have given me while I have been writing this column. I can assure you it has been my privilege to talk to you about life at Extendicare and to share with you something of my philosophy of life be it right or wrong. If I "make the grade" I will be 88 in January. I hope I have learned something on the way. In closing let me say More Power to You All! Aurevoir if not Good Bye.

Dr. O.W. Anderson has kindly consented to write the column while I am away. We appreciate this because he is already shouldering a great deal of responsibility as secretary of the Happy Gang and our leader in horticulture.

Freed from the curse of the Ruddigore baronetcy, Sir Despard Murgatroyd (David Sawyer) overjoyed at his change in heart, is able to turn to his pledged love, Mad Margaret, excellently played by Darlene Freeman, as the chorus of professional bridesmaids look on expecting a marriage that will keep them in business. Despard's change in character, from a man who commits a sin a day, to one who leads a quiet and dignified life, is well done, although producing the surprising sensation that he was better adjusted as a bad baronet than as Mad Margaret's husband in the closing act of the Haliburton Highland Secondary School Glee Club production.

Glee Club makes play a total success retiring landowner (although next in line for the baronetcy) he has been in hiding for ten years, leaving both curse and title to his younger brother), through his initial glee and later anxiety over his forced adoption of his rightful position, to the final moment when he has courage in the midst of some mayhem to finally claim the girl he loves, every twitch of Stouffer's eyebrow, mustache, toe or finger managed to bring laughter from the crowd. He used a highly mobile face to convey every imaginable expression at the right moment. Like a professional, he was seldom without a reaction to each step of the music on plot and carried and sang his part beautifully.

Rose Maybud, the horrifyingly proper young lady who uses her book of etiquette as a handy reference Bible, at the beginning of the musical and has her come-uppance as she realizes that her "heart doesn't know its mind", was very well done by on opening night by Catherine Kinsmen. Her strong and accurate voice was a true addition, she played Rose's change from a prim maiden to a somewhat two-faced bride to be who delights in being called a trim little craft very convincingly.

The third major part was played by Allan Cooper, also excellent as the stout hearted sailor whose forward heart takes the liberty of calling him Dick. He is, admittedly, more stout hearted in matters of love than battle, but Cooper plays his dogged and determined efforts to take Rose Maybud in line, in of course a heart warming and straightforward manner.

It is difficult to mention some perfomers, without heaping the same praise upon all. Good performances were also put forward by David Sawyer as the younger brother, Despard, Darleen Freeman, as the thoroughly enjoyable Mad Margaret, Despard's crazy attachment, Ralph Johnson as the faithful, shaky Adam and Martin Grant and Lynn Barnhart as Sir Roderick and Dame Hannah whose voices blend well in a final duet.

The chorus of professional bridesmaids, villagers, bucks and blades is indispensible in a Gilbert and Sullivan production, and the crew in the Glee Club production lived up to every bit of the responsibility put on them to explain the plot, back the songs and act as accessories to the humor. Special mention goes to Marylin Thayer, whose elderly villager showed that backstage action, or lack of can add a great deal to the humor and polish of a production.

It goes without saying that a cast as well prepared as this one must have made a success of the production every night of the fun. Alternate casting provided a change in players for two of the performances. Walter Alrutz took over as Ruthven, George Cooper as Despard, Eric Burk as Adam, Mr. Frank Wallace as Roderick, Barbara Payne as Mad Margaret, Maryiln Thayer as Dame Hannah and Nancy Anderson as Rose. These were all included as chorus members in the opening night performance under review.

In spite of any early audiences that may have taken some of Gilbert and Sullivan's good natured witticisms as criticisms, Ruddigore stands as thoroughly amusing piece. Especially with the training and skill that the Glee Club brought to playing every laugh and singing every song for what it was worth, which meant creating solid characters to deliver both, the show came off with every musical and comic success it could deserve.

Adam Goodheart (Ralph Johnson) surprises a frightened, not frightening Sir Ruthven Murgatroyd (Richard Stouffer), after Ruthven has learned the force of the witch's curse that hounds him once he takes on the baronetcy. The high school Glee Club production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Ruddigore" was an opening night success.

The wedding scene in most musicals comes at the end. Not so in the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School production of "Ruddigore" which turns everything, including expected scripts, upside down in a highly entertaining and successful rendition of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta. Adam (Ralph Johnson), Robin/Ruthven (Richard Stouffer), Rose Maybud (Cathy Kinsman) and Dame Hannah (Lynn Barnhart) are about to be upset in their plans for a happy and long awaited celebration.

Fish stocking program is well underway in district

The Ministry of Natural Resources will be stocking a total of 106,640 fish in the Minden district and 63,000 of these will be planted in Dysart et al lakes.

Steve Toole, fish and wildlife supervisor for the district, told the council that the district has requested 88,000 lake trout with the actual figure down to 84,940 and a total of 53,000 being planted in Dysart lakes.

There were 30,000 Rainbow Trout requested but only 2,000 were availble because of the failure of a crop at one of the government's hatcheries.

Of the 18,000 brook trout requested, 15,700 is the actual figure and the district also received 4,000 muskinonge out of the 12,000 requested.

"We are a little disappointed, particularly in rainbow trout", Mr. Toole said, but he added that it is one of the problems in attempting to raise fish.

The reason for the large number of lake trout planted in the district lakes, Mr. Toole noted, is that they will reproduce in the area's waters where there has been little success with rainbow and brook trout.

Among the lakes receiving lake trout were Havelock Lake, 6,500; Percy Lake, 8,000; Lake Miskwabi, 9,000; Kennisis, 10,000; Drag, 10,000; Kelly, 4,200; North Lake, 3,000; Basshaunt, 2,000; and Haliburton Lake, 500.

The fish are about three inches long that are being used in the lake trout stocking process other than the 500 in Haliburton Lake which were two years old and about eight inches long.

Mr. Toole pointed out that some lakes are just not suitable for Lake Trout anymore and said that the ministry is stocking bass. The bass that are stocked through are adults in hopes of them reproducing.

He noted that pickerel have been stocked in Lake Kashagawigamog but it takes 15 to 20 years to produce a good fishery.

He siad that it has been about 15 years since pickerel were first put into Kashagawigamog and people are now recording good catches.

Mr. Toole said that the north basin of the lake does not favour lake trout but the pickerel will live in it. He noted that the south basin still has lake trout and the ministry will continue to stock lake trout in that area.

Commenting on the quality of water in the lakes in the Minden district, Mr. Toole said that if the quality drops again "we will be in trouble".

He said that the ministry has considered stocking such fish as pacific salmon in the Haliburton area waters but they require a great deal more feed than lake trout.

Stuart Smith will be in Lindsay

Dr. Stuart Smith, leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, will be the special guest speaker when the Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Association hold their Nominating Convention tonight (Wednesday, May 11th, 1977) in Lindsay.

The meeting will be held at St. Mary's Auditorium at Glenelg and St. Lawrence St. in Lindsay, at 8:00 p.m. Registration will be at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting is being held to choose a candidate to represent the Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Association in the upcoming Provincial election which will be held on June 9th.

Concrete seats might now lower arenas insurance costs

There just may not be concrete seats installed at the Dysart Arena as part of the repair project.

Dysart et al Council learned Monday that possibly the insurance costs of the building would not go down if concrete seats were installed.

Concillor, Gary McKnight said he could see no reason for putting in the concrete seats unless it did cut the insurance costs.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said it is up to the recreation committee.

Dysart willing to help MNR get water access

The Ministry of Natural Resources has a problem getting access to lakes in the Haliburton area in order to operate a fish stocking program.

Steve Toole, fish and wildlife supervisor for the Minden District of the Ministry was at Dysart et al's council meeting, Monday, to explain some of the stocking programs being carried out in the region and the municipality.

He told the council that among the problems such as water quality there is also the problem of private land.

Mr. Toole said that streams and lakes are public, but if access is not available then it puts the ministry in the position of not being able to manage the water.

Reeve Murray Fearrey asked Mr. Toole for a list of lakes that the Ministry is planning to survey in hopes of stocking fish and that the municipality will attempt to find access for them.

"We are anxious to co-operate with you because we want fish", Reeve Fearrey said.

Lutterworth gets grant for home renewal

Lutterworth Township has received $14,500 from the Ministry of Housing under the Ontario Home Renewal Program, Minister John Rhodes announced Monday.

The $14,500 received will be matched by an additional $14,500 once the program is well under way and funds are being spent as the program advances.

Lutterworth clerk, Bev Millar, noted that although the money has been received, the program will not begin until near the end of the month. There is a course on the administration of home renewal projects being given next week, in Toronto, and Lutterworth bylaw officer, Bruce Fraser, is to attend.

The Ontario Home Renewal Program this week allocated grants totalling $1,093,961 to 26 municipalities, a portion of the total 1976-77 funding, according to a press release published Monday.

The grants under the program are to be administered "directly as loans to homeowner occupants to repair their houses to an acceptable municipal minimum standard", the press release explained.

"The prime objective of the program", according to the statement from the Ministry, "is the correction of faulty structural and sanitary conditions and the upgrading of plumbing, heating, insulation and electrical systems of the owner occupant's home", it went on to say.

Minister Rhodes is quoted as saying that "OHRP is directly oriented to low and moderate income homeowners with a maximum annual income of $12,500".

The announcement continued, noting that "Loans of up to $7,500 can be given to eligible owner occupants to bring their homes up to the standard adopted by their municipality. A portion of the loan can be "forgiven" depending upon the income of the recipient. Interest rates vary from zero to eight percent, again depending on income.

"OHRP extends home renewal possibilities to owner occupants in any municipality in Ontario, urban or rural, which has adopted either a minimum housing standard bylaw or a resolution setting such standards.

"Special arrangements have been made to extend the benefits of the program to the residents of unorganized municipalities in Northern Ontario", the release concluded.

Applications for assistance under the program can be made through the municipality once the Lutterworth office announces that they are ready to begin the administration of the program.

Site recommended for family housing

Sid Palmer, a representative of the Ministry of Housing, has recommended a site in Dysart et al for geared to income family housing and it has been approved by his supervisor.

Mr. Palmer suggested to Dysart Council, Monday, that an updating survey should be conducted in the municipality to see what the demand is for geared to income housing.

He noted that the survey will be done this summer.

A survey two years ago showed a need for 13 units which Mr. Palmer said could be more or less now.

Ready with a question on party policy with regards to developing light industry in Haliburton County, Ken Constable of Donald meets Jim Webster, Progressive Conservative candidate, Victoria-Haliburton, who campaigned in Haliburton Village Thursday. Mr. Webster has opened campaign headquarters in the small office in front of Candlewood Gifts. He said that many questions had been asked about Canadian unity, and that he feels Bill Davis is the man to control Ontario's dealings with Quebec. Most of the questions that Mr. Webster fielded in Haliburton, however, dealt with the other campaign issue - jobs.

The general public are sure getting up in the air over the price that we now have to pay for Hydro. It seems to us that the rates just seem to be going up and up. This being the case, it's just about time that we started to get a little better service here in Haliburton. There is hardly an evening goes by that one section of the village, or a certain street are without the service of street lights. This has been going on and on. It has finally come to the point that half of the village seems to be without lights half of the time. There certainly seems to be a problem here and it all started after new lights were installed. If new transformers are needed, or more relays, well let's see that the job is done. We all have to admit that we are paying plenty for hydro, so let's see to it that we get a little service for a change.

The 1977 Provincial election is underway. It would appear to us that one of the issues in this election could be the possibility of Quebec pulling out of confederation. Here in the Haliburton County the issue should be unemployment and seeing to it that we try and get some small industries into the county to give people work and try for a year round economy instead of us just trying to struggle along and make a living two months of the year.

A meeting was held at the Tennis Courts, at the Rotary Beach, in Haliburton, on Monday night, in an attempt to form a tennis club. The turnout was anything but large, but those in attendance were quite enthusiastic about forming the club. The turnout at this meeting was made up mostly of young people with very few adults. It was decided at this meeting that they would go ahead and meet with Recreation and everyone present was asked to go out and sign up members.

It is our opinion that a Tennis Club is a must for the operation of the court. As was outlined at this meeting, new nets must be purchased, a windbreaker is needed and time must be allotted. Our only concern is the fact that although the Rotary Club built the courts, we must remember that the money came from the public and we hope that enough time will be set aside for those who are not members. If the general public who are not members are cut down to just a few hours a week, we expect to hear a public outcry. In the meantime, we give our thanks to those who are trying so hard to get a club started and we hope that everyone will sign up and become members.

One of the big issues being kicked around at the present time is whether or not Dysart needs a Recreation Director. For one, I think that we need a Recreation Director but on the other hand it is my opinion that we should define just what the Recreation Director would be expected to do. Let's bring the facts out into the open so that everyone will have a clear view on the issue.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

How not to get involved. If only there were a book published under that name, no doubt many people including myself would be buying it.

The first lesson is the strategy in how you decline. When declining be definite, don't give a anyone the chance of thinking that perhaps you would enlist with a little prodding.

The second thing is sit at the back of the room and keep your mouth shut. At a meeting of a local organization last week, I forgot these general rules that most reporters follow.

When asked early in the evening, by the chairman, who said "Badgley are you going to get involved," I answered a meek, "no, I haven't got the time."

It seemed to work though even if it wasn't forceful enough. When the new executive was formed, I was being bypassed. That is when I should have hid in the corner at the back of the room.

The chairman, then looking in my direction said "Jim are you interested in helping out", I mumble a couple of things and then was informed that he was talking to the Jim behind me. Somehow the committee got two members out of the deal, both named Jim.

I am not complaining though, because, like many people I wouldn't get involved in anything if someone didn't force me to.

You know it was almost painless to get involved. I like many other people will sit around and be critical about what is going on but the extent of my doing anything about it is just that.

Now there is an organization in town, that I will actually have some sort of voice on. Maybe not a big voice but at least a voice.

For the rest of you who are still not involved, it is a pretty good feeling to know that you have and plan to do something worthwhile. It is never too late to get involved in anything. Pick out an organization that you think does good for the community and that you are interested in and go and ask them if you can be of some assistance. They will put you to work pretty fast.

Power of the Press

Dear Sirs:

The power of the press is very strong as everyone knows. In our area it has had a powerful influence on the people of our village. [illegible] newspapers of The Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre is a Municipality of Monmouth effort as is the Arena. The man the memorial centre was named after was a Tory Hill resident. Whenever there is anything published in the newspaper, it is always Wilberforce, no mention of Tory Hill.

The residents of Tory Hill would feel much kindlier to any money making projects that are put on and would even help if they felt they were part of the Municipality of Monmouth rather than Wilberforce.

I felt that this should be brought to your attention that whenever you are covering a news item that you would consider the fact that it is not the village of Wilberforce but rather the Municipality of Monmouth.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Margaret Finlay

Licence fees

Dear Mrs. Finlay:

Thank you very much for sending to me a copy of your letter to Darcy McKeough, the Treasurer, in regard to the proposed car licence fees. I agree with your comments a hundred percent. It's about time they gave a break to Haliburton County, and recognized the position which the County is in.

Haliburton County certainly deserves a shot in the arm and they always seem to pass us by. I will be taking up this proposal and will also contact the appropriate people in regard to having Haliburton included.

Thanks very much for bringing this to my attention.

Yours sincerely,
John Eakins.

Group home issue

Dear Sir:

We were appalled to read your article on the Gervais Group Home issue.

We have known the Gervais family for four years. We have known them to be kind, responsible, adults. The foster children that came to them are accepted into their family and they are accepted into their family, make no mistake about that.

The children that came to them are given the same care and attention as the natural children. If a child is placed with the Gervais', they are in the best of homes.

You state that education presents a problem. How could that be? If a family moved to Haliburton with 10-15 natural children, could your community deny them education? I think not.

Mrs. Martin Hopkins,

Toronto, Ontario.

Communications

Dear Sir:

I would like to comment on the editorial concerning the lack of communication between the Elementary and Secondary Schools.

The blame for this lack of communication seems to have been placed solely on the teachers. The teachers as I see them are at the bottom of the totem pole.

We, the people elect a Board of Education. They, in turn, hire a Director of Education. They also hire teachers who are paid to work for them under the direction of the Director. It is usual for employees to do what they are asked or told to do. Therefore, I don't understand your comment that teachers can be brought together but can't be forced to do a job.

Is the Board of Education or the Director not doing their job?

COUNTY ECHO SPORTS

County sports

BY JIM BADGLEY

Jim Badgley is in favor of Dysart having a recreation director if a need for a director can be proven.

One wonders just how much of a need there is though. A recreation director isn't going to be the end all of the problems of apathy towards such things as minor hockey or other recreational endeavors in Dysart.

There was a small turnout at the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association's meeting last week. The turnout wouldn't have been larger if the municipality had a recreation director. Possibly the turnout would have been smaller because some people are still under the impression that a recreation director will take over the leadership of many of these groups.

Well a recreation director will be working from nine to five or whatever the regular office hours for the municipality are. Unless the person completely different then the average person in town, he or she wouldn't even have attended the minor hockey meeting. Only 15 people did.

You are not going to find a recreation director at the arena every night to make sure things are going properly. Why should he be, he gets paid for straightening out the problems the next day.

Possibly the person who gets the job, if the job ever becomes available, will be interested enough to go and help around the arena a night during the minor hockey season, but then again, perhaps the person will enjoy curling much more and spend more time at the rink.

There will also be a loss of personal contact with the elected officials.

If I was running an organization looking for grants or a favor from the municipality, I would want to deal directly with an elected official, because that person will want to get elected again but a recreation director only has to worry about picking up his pay cheque.

A friend of mine, who works in the municipal government field told me once that council's come and go but the clerk is always there. The same thing applies to a recreation director.

Poor turnout marks minor hockey meeting

The Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will not be giving a donation to the arena repair fund but it is interested in having a study done on whether or not the community needs a recreation director.

These were among the topics at the annual general meeting of the association held last week with only 15 people in attendance.

The association decided that it was better not to donate to the arena fund because minor hockey itself is a charitable cause.

The association also decided to send a letter to the municipal council stating that it would like to see a study conducted by a committee to see if a recreation director is needed in Dysart.

With the small turnout the Minor Hockey Association had a difficult time filling its executive and most of the positions have been left up to its new president, Len Salvatori, to find people to fill them.

Mr. Salvatori replaces Bob Stinson as president. First Vice-President of the association, for the coming year, is Paul Espie and Roy Scott has become Second Vice - President.

The other positions on the executive have not yet been settled.

There wasn't much of a turnout for the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association's annual general meeting but the top executives were selected. Len Salvatori (seated) was elected president while Roy Scott was named 2nd Vice-President and Paul Espie was named 1st Vice-President.

Physical fitness

by Margaret Milne

When Jim and I first began regular exercising, we chose bicycling. It was midsummer then, and we found bicycling a pleasant way to exercise. It creates a better breeze than running does, so it doesn't leave you feeling quite so hot as running does in the warm weather.

Weather is a perfect factor in all outdoor exercise, of course, and has its effect on bicycling. Very windy days are more of a nuisance in bicycling than running. Because of the increased speed, you feel the resistance more when going against the wind. The roads in this area are not good for bicycling in the winter, so bicycling is best reserved for the spring, summer and fall. Even then, strong wind may make you miss some days. However, as I've mentioned before, once you are past the first two months of steady exercising, you can mix different kinds of exercise. So you could start bicycling now, and get in two months while the weather is good. I think that bicycling may have an advantage over running, with regard to the bug problem too. It's harder for the insects to catch up to you!

In planning out courses on which to bicycle, there are two things to consider. One is the problem of turning and the other is the problem of hills. When you make a u-turn on a bicycle, you have to slow down, and sometimes even stop if there is traffic. So you lose time. Thus you should try to plan your course so that you only turn once. The one turn is advisable so that you will go out and back over the same road, thus having an equal amount of uphill and downhill, against wind and with wind. Since you will want to increase your distance from 2 miles the first week, up to 8 or 10 miles after 2 or 3 months, you will need to plan many different length courses so that you will only need one turn whatever the distance. However, because the distances are long, you don't have to be as exact as in the distances for running. The car odometer will do fine.

The problem of hills needs a little explanation. The reason that hills present somewhat more difficulty in bicycling than in running, is that you can only go so slow on a bicycle before stopping or falling off! When running you can slow down as much as you need to when you feel over-taxed. But if you get on a steep or long hill on a bicycle you may feel you are pushing yourself too hard, and yet continue. You think to yourself that you can soon have rest going down the other side. The effect that this has on your body is like that of wind-sprinting. Track athletes use wind-sprinting as a training method for increasing speed. They run all out for a short time, rest a short time, then repeat the run. This may be a proven way to increase speed and strength. But it is not good for a fitness exercise program. It puts unnecessary strain on the heart and you don't want to do that. You do want to increase the efficiency of your heart and lungs. This is best done by gradual increase in the length and speed of workouts, and not by sudden excessive stress. So plan your bicycle route to be as level as possible, and use a bicycle that's in good condition to get you over the hills without undue strain.

This brings me to the subject of the bicycle itself. In an earlier article, I mentioned that the bicycle should be standard or 3-speed. My own experience with a big standard bicycle was rather dismal. It really was difficult to get it over the hills. When I switched to my husband's 3-speed bicycle, the difference amazed me, even though I kept it in the same gear all the time. In the Aerobic's books, it is suggested that men use a standard of 3 speed kept in one gear. For women, use of the gears on a 3-speed would be acceptable. My own opinion is that a 3-speed is a minimum requirement around here because of the hills, and that even a 5-speed or 10-speed would be all right to use, as long as you don't use all the gears. Just use the gears to get you over the hills without pushing yourself to extreme effort. A little healthy strain is alright. You should expect to get out of breath, to sweat, and to feel some muscle strain.

Your muscles will naturally become a little sore when you first begin to bicycle. This soreness will soon go away, so that you only feel the strain on the hills. Bicycling is pretty trouble-free as far as injuries, strains and sprains are concerned. The only precaution to take here is the obvious one of traffic safety.

Toronto man charged with break-in

A Toronto man has been charged with break and enter and theft as the result of an incident May 4.

Ian Doyle Smith, 23, of Weston Road, Toronto, has been charged in connection with a break-in at the Liquor Control Board store in Wilberforce.

In the break-in there was $558 in damages and $26.46 stolen.

Smith was apprehended at Peterborough Civic Hospital while being treated for severe lacerations to his right wrist.

He was also charged with driving while prohibited and will appear in court May 24.

Development is possible in Richie Lake area

Dysart et al Council will look into the possibility of setting up an agreement with John Brown to develop an area around Richie Lake as a tourist attraction.

The council is presently working on an agreement with Mr. Brown to get the rights to develop the Indian Wells in that area as an attraction.

Planning policy won't cost Dysart et al

Dysart et al will get to sit back and not spend any money on a planning policy for Haliburton County.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey, told the council monday that because Dysart has an official plan the municipality will not have to pay.

He told the council that the policy, which would be used instead of an official plan, will take 6 to 18 months to prepare and will cost about $50,000 with the county's share being $15,000.

The county planning committee was told by a Ministry of Housing official, a couple of weeks ago, that the area would be better for the time being to have a planning policy instead of an official plan. The planning policy would be used to control development in the rural areas.

Hockey violence

WATCHING hockey playoffs lately, and discussing the brutality of the modern game with other former aficionados, I began to ponder on that subject which is of such recent concern to our society — violence.

It is certainly nothing new. History is a long and often sickening record of violence.

In the great Greek epics, treachery and murder and war and killing are celebrated. The Bible is loaded with people "smiting" each other. The Romans reveled in cruel and bloody spectacles. The Crusades of the Middle Ages, under the blessing of the Church, were sagas of loot and raping and fire and killing.

Wares and piracy and vicious colonization occupied Renaissance man, under the guise of exploration and spreading the faith. Torture and burning at the stake were the treats in store for anyone accused of treason or heresy as State and Church struggled for supremacy in the western world.

And speaking of the West, that great American state to the south, under the various cloaks of freedom, peace and the spreading of law and order, but spurred by greed and hunger for land, practised a ferocious type of genocide on the original natives.

Then came World War I, when slaughter and mud and blood became a way of life, for years, for millions of men, in a holocaust that made a mockery of the notion that man was becoming civilized, and paled all previous violence by comparison.

Next feature was Son of World War I. While not as devastating in the score of human life, it reached new pinnacles of perversion and horror, culminating in the unspeakable death camps of Germany, and the terror bombings of the Allies.

Things haven't improved. Cold war, with the building of vast stores of deadly and dreadful weapons. Arabs and Jews. The Congo. Ireland. Lebanon. You name it and modern man is capable of it. Hijacking, kidnapping, torture, bombings are commonplace.

What are our favorite movies? At least the ones that make money? Disaster films, the bigger the better. Air crashes, earthquakes, towering infernoes. Or vicious portrayals of mad killers as in Taxi Driver. Or seeing two humans punch each other into bloody ribbons, as in "Rocky." Or watching violence, physical and verbal, carried to the point of parody, as in "Slap Shot."

And that brings us neatly, and inevitably, back to professional hockey.

And after thinking over a few thousand years of violence, it's a Sunday School picnic, that spectacle on the ice, in my mind.

Why should I become exercised over it? The owners are interested chiefly in either a big buck or a tax writeoff. Fighting and high sticking and blood fill the arenas. So it's a free country and capitalism is the economic system.

Why should I worry about the managers and coaches encouraging blood and brutality? Those people are mere stooges for the owners. They have to fill rinks and win games, or it's "Slong, Charlie."

Why should I feel contempt for the referees when they faily to honor their hypocritic oath and turn a blind eye on some guy trying to tear out another guy's guts with the modern equivalent of a spear? They don't encourage mayhem, but they tolerate it by ignoring the rule book. If they don't turn a blind eye, they're fired. Simple.

Do the media people and the sports writers attack the viciousness in hockey? Not on your next year's contract with Hockey Night in Canada, buster. They mention it, chuckling.

Should I feel some sympathy for the players, forced into fraudulent ferocity by owners, coaches, fans? No way. I pity them for the punishment they take, but at the same time pity them for being patsies for evberybody else; for being dumb, in other words. They're well paid. If they want to be actors, let them act. If they want to be thespians, let them thesp, through their missing front teeth. If they want to be goons, let them goon away, as long as they goon on each other, and not on me.

And should I feel contempt for the fans, who scream for blood, who curse colorfully the opposition when it is winning, who blaspheme bitterly their own team when it is losing? Nope. I feel no more contempt for them than I do for the Roman mob, suckered by the Caesars into going to the Games, instead of asking who is looking after the store these days.

I guess in the long run we're a violent people. We don't throw Christians to the lions. We throw figurative tigers to the nominal Christians. Those of us who don't like it should move to Switzerland, where they don't fight wars, and have lousy hockey teams.

That 90 pound 60-year-old lady who screams at the professional wrestler, "Stomp on him Killer!" is merely exercising her democratic right, and her hatred of her big, fat, overbearing husband.

That little pot bellied bald headed middle aged guy who is staring at the screen waving his beer and shouting "Hit him, Tiger!" is not a sadist. He's a good citizen, kind father, devoted husband.

He is merely remembering the time he was a scrawny runt, went over on his ankles and was always chosen last for a pickup game of hockey on the outdoor rink.

It's a great country we live in, and we're all entitled to at least a modicum of violence, a smattering of blood, and a few teeth knocked in, as lon as they are somebody else's.

Dysart won't pay for dump

A request from Snowdon Council to Dysart Council for funds because residents of Dysart are using the Snowdon dump, was turned down.

Dysart Council was informed by Snowdon that the dump was being used more since the Donald dump was closed.

Dysart Reeve, Murray Fearrey, said that it is a problem around the county and that they likely even out with residents using each municipality's dumps.

From the Chamber

Arrangements are being finalized for the breakfast seminars that we spoke of here in this column last week. Working in co-operation with Sir Sandford Fleming College, Department of Continuing Education we are able to bring you some very qualified discussion leaders at no additional cost. You are therefore invited to have breakfast with us at the PineStone Inn, on Wednesday, June 8th at 8 a.m., at only $3.50 each. We are sure you will find the next two hours following breakfast very constructive and informative, under the leadership of Alma Pope from Barrie, Ontario. This time will be devoted to improving your staff management capabilities. We will be briefly touching on hiring of staff, considerable attention will be given to the management and training of staff, and considerable concentration placed on staff moral. We felt this subject was not only timely but extremely important as we all realize our staff have a great deal to do with the selling of our own particular business. Anyone who has a staff of one or more should gain considerable benefit out of this short session, and by 11 o'clock we'll have you on your way and back to work. A second breakfast meeting of this nature will be held on Wednesday, June 22nd with a brand new topic. We'll tell you more about this one later. We also anticipate carrying on this program in the fall with breakfast meetings held at various locations throughout the County on various topics of interest to our members. We are extremely pleased to be able to bring this program to our membership and indebted to Sir Sandford Fleming College for their co-operation in this regard.

The way businesses are moving out, in both Haliburton and Minden, from shop to shop and location to location, it's getting so you almost need a programme to keep up with what's going on. The latest move in Haliburton involved Nancy's Flowers who has moved into larger facilities next to Brohm's Variety. Nancy opened her new shop last week and already looks well established in her new headquarters. In addition to having far more room to adequately display her many beautiful wares, she has also found that she can expand her business to new horizons. The shop will now also house Nancy's Bridal Boutique which can provide many of those special things that you used to find so difficult to obtain in the Haliburton area, including such things as wedding invitations, and ornamental decorations for the top of the cake. We certainly wish Nancy much success in her new location.

LaRue Motors recently moved out onto the highway into their new facilities which are certainly a credit to their operation. We note that their new showroom seems to be quite busy since it's opening. The quarters they vacated will soon be occupied by Haliburton Red and White. Work is progressing rapidly in order to prepare the facilities for them. Upstairs in that building our Canada Manpower Office continues to operate and we have a new tenant. Horton & Wallace Ltd., Ontario Land Surveyors have recently acquired office space across the hall from Canada Manpower. Horton & Wallace have their head office in Whitby and this office is manned by Jim Kirkland who hales from Oshawa. Jim has just purchased Bob LaRue's house on Head Lake and is very much looking forward to becoming a permanent part of our community. Jim makes a point of being in the office from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. every morning, so, drop in and get acquainted. We at the Chamber certainly wish both Jim and his company success and prosperity here in the Highlands.

We just got the good word here at the Chamber that not only are facilities going to be spruced up with a Young Canada Works grant, but we are also going to get town water way out here on the highway. What an improvement that will be having relied up until now on rain water in a cistern, and we've always been afraid that somebody would unwittingly drink it someday.

Minden detachment of OPP is planning its activities for Police Week May 15 to 21

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police will be taking its police week show on the road, so to speak, this year when two days are spent at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Const. Wim Magee, information officer for the detachment said that May 19 and 20 has been set aside to put on a Police Week display at the high school.

Const. Magee said that Police Week runs from May 15 to 21 and during that week there will be a number of things for both youngsters and adults to see.

The police week activities include a tour at the OPP office in Minden. Const. Magee pointed out that this will give the public an opportunity to look at the equipment used by the police.

He also noted that there will be a number of pamphlets on such things as crime prevention and safety.

When the display moves to the high school there could be the addition of a policewoman to the show for May 19.

The display in the school will be held in the front foyer and parking area.

"There are three major objectives shared by all law enforcement agencies:

- to keep the peace
- the prevention of crime; and
- the detection and apprehension of criminals", noted H. H. Graham, Commissioner of the OPP.

Each is an integral part of the other, requiring a delicate balance acceptable to the social climate. Any imbalance in these goals has an immediate effect on the concerns of the police and the public, he noted.

"It is imperative that the citizens we serve have a greater understanding of our role and their share of responsibility for maintaining a safe and healthy community in which we live", Commissioner Graham said.

He noted that to further this goal, I extend a personal invitation to everyone to visit any of our 189 detachments during police week.

OTTAWA and SMALL BUSINESS

Surprisingly little debate has taken place on the value of the Canadian education system. Most argument stems from the quality of instruction in traditional subjects like languages and sciences. Few Canadians have asked whether the subjects themselves are appropriate to the society of today — or tomorrow. But anyone who has taken a close look at what has happened through our schools knows that some sweeping curriculum changes are long overdue.

Four charged in connection with numerous incidents

Four persons have been charged in connection with a number of incidents in the Haliburton County area over the past few weeks.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that Vernon Gionet, 18, of Toronto, has been charged with two counts of theft over $200, five counts of break, enter and theft, and two counts of possession over $200, one count of theft under $200, and one count of possession of stolen property under $200.

Denise Ward, 17, of Thornhill, has been charged with one count of theft over $200, and two counts of possession of stolen property over $200. She was also charged with one count of possession of stolen property under $200.

The charges arose in connection with incidents involving the theft of an automobile, a truck and break-ins at a number of cottages.

Two juveniles have also been charged, one with two counts of theft over $200, two counts of possession of stolen goods over $200, and three counts of break, enter and theft. The other juvenile has been charged with two counts of theft over $200 and two counts of possession of stolen property under $200.

The juveniles are from Toronto.

The incidents took place in the Haliburton Lake area. The charges were laid last Monday.

A seminar on retail advertising drew about 40 Haliburton County Businessmen to the PineStone Inn, last Wednesday. The seminar, which was sponsored by Algonquin Graphics, publisher of the Minden Recorder and Haliburton County Echo, was conducted by Professor Ralph Marcus, of McGill University, in Montreal. Pictured are Creighton Feir, General Manager of both newspapers, Ron Hore, Manager of the Bank of Montreal in Haliburton, David Gray, of the accounting firm of Dawson and Gray, Professor Marcus and Bob Stinson, Secretary Manager of the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hore and Mr. Gray were guest speakers at the luncheon held during the day.

Let' clear the air

Let's clear the air once and for all:

Efficiently operating emission control devices cut air pollution and vehicle operating expenses at the same time.

Many motorists wrongly belive that disconnecting the pollution control system on new cars results in better gas mileage, but the opposite is true.

The system does its job by aiding in more complete combustion of fuel. Tampering with the pollution control system leads to inefficient combustion and decreased fuel economy.

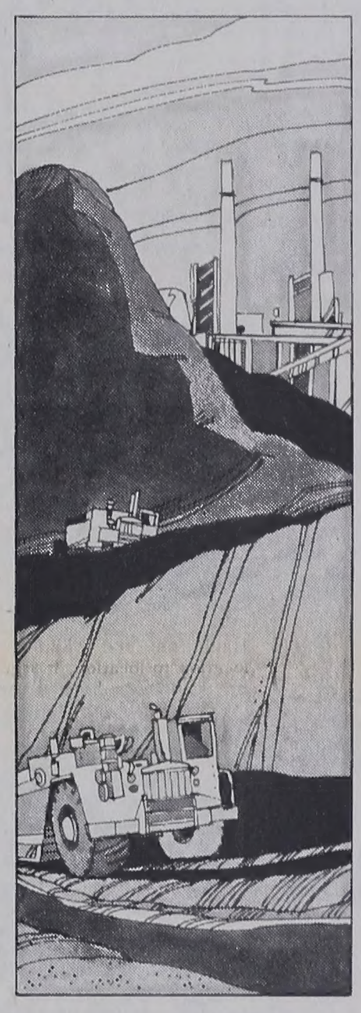
Save electricity, save natural resources.



About a third of Ontario's electricity is generated by burning fossil fuels... coal, oil, natural gas. The price of all these natural resources is increasing rapidly. The price of coal, for example, has tripled over the last five years. Higher fuel costs inevitably show up in the price you pay for electricity.

Save electricity, and you'll save money. You'll also be helping to conserve dwindling natural resources for other important uses... transportation, agriculture, chemicals.

Ontario will help employers pay the salaries of youth hired for the summer months.

Here's how the program works.

If you operate a business or farm and create a new position for the summer, the Ontario Youth Employment Program will give you a grant of $1 per hour toward the wages of an unemployed youth you hire for the job.

As a matter of fact, grants are available for up to six new positions per business or farm for each operational site, and you may hire any unemployed youth between the ages of 15 and 24 who lives in Ontario and is eligible to work here.

The program will be in effect from May 30th to September 16th, 1977, but the full 16 week commitment is not required.

Employer application forms for the Ontario Youth Employment Program are available through your local Canada Manpower Centres and, because grant funds are limited, should be submitted as soon as possible.

Clerks look at school board apportionments exercise in futility" since Dysart is "not prepared to take anything" and is "not going to be happy if they saddle us with extra costs". Since 100 per cent agreement of the arbitrators is required Mr. Wood noted it is likely that the matter will go-to the Ontario Municipal Board any way, a body that has decided once a favor of Dysart and once in favor of the appealing townships in the last apportionment appeals.

Glamorgan clerk Elva Bates, Jeff Wynne of Snowdon, and Michael McBride of Cardiff also opposed the resolution.

All of these townships, except Glamorgan, will be more heavily taxed by the re-apportionment proposed.

Glamorgan taxpayers would be saved $10,211. if the suggested re-apportionment, based on the figures requested for a 1976 settlement, was adopted. Mrs. Bates said "I have very definite reasons for the way I voted but I don't wish to comment."

If the appeal is not resolved by the arbitration of clerks and treasurers, it will wait upon Ontario Municipal Board decision, as it has in the past.

The townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Sherbourne, McClintock and Livingstone and Stanhope, lodged an appeal on the 1977 education levy after having a similar appeal on the 1976 apportionment turned down by the OMB this year.

In both earlier appeals, they argued for the adoption of one third and two thirds of the Regional Assessment Commissioner's updatedm market value figures prepared in 1974 and based on 1972 market values.

It was maintained that the updated figures would create a fairer distribution of the levy than the equalized assessment figures based on 1969 values.

The 1975 appeal was upheld by the OMB but the 1976 appeal was turned down on the grounds that the 1974 figures were no longer considered more reliable than the equalized 1969 values due to recent swings in assessment values.

Noting the amounts that an adoption of two thirds of the difference between the present equalized assessment and the equalized assessment figures released by the Regional Assessment office.

Presented to the arbitration meeting by clerks Richard Parisotto and Gerald Bain, the resolution noted the amounts that the seven municipalities paid "in excess education taxes" in 1976. These amounts are based on the comparison of two thirds of the difference between the present equalized assessment and the equalized assessment figures released by the Regional Assessment Office.

The meeting was adjourned to be recalled by the director of education within 14 days after he receives notification that the new assessment figures have been released.

Gems of Truth

THE SANCTITY OF THE HOME
[Introduction]

That the home is the insistent target of the God of this world in past and present days is very evident to any discerning soul. Scripture emphatically declares that "the God of this world hath blinded the eyes of them which believe not". 2 Cor. 4.4. It seems that he is also reaching over the fence and doing the same with the professing church and individual believers in our present day.

Consciously or unconsciously, working under Satan, are the men and women who manage their planet's, education, business, pleasure and politics. The majority of the over two billion inhabitants, like a flock of sheep, stupidly obey orders while boating of liberty and self-determination. The world of thought is dominated by agitators through books, papers, movies, radio and television, and some soap-box oratory. Every department of life is deliberately invaded, and privacy is almost on the list of obsolete words.

No other institution has suffered so much as the home. What a shame that this Divine unit should so slavishly follow the world's pattern! The students of yesterday are the married, divorced, and married-again couples of today. The birth rate is lower, yet the quality of mankind is not improved.

False ideals and low standards have bowed the Bible out as being obsolete. Yet this Written Word, like the Living Word, cannot be buried permanently and there are millions who still build upon its foundation for home-life. Some young women's blushes are not artificial. They would be horrified at the thought of trial marriage. They are athletic but never at the expense of modesty. They are winsome, but also wholesome. The advertisements may scream their impure feminine sales propaganda, but to the pure in heart purity of the whole personality is the goal. They care for their hair and teeth, and hands, but not in order to impress their boy friends. They are not ashamed of dishwater, nor even of oil and grease if there things spell duty and faithfulness. Their whole desire is to be "acceptable unto Him" in all things. Such as the homes of today who have kept the nation from going the way of Sodom and Gomorah into judgment for sodomy. When adultery is made of little consequence, it shows a nation is fast receding to that awful pagan condition as described in Romans 1-19-32.

When nations treat the sacred law of marriage lightly, and make it easy for men and women to break their vows made so solemnly before God, then it is fatal to the well-being of the home and the State. It reveals a lowering of moral standards, and the strength of a nation crumbles as man-made laws are substituted for the laws of God. The Sovereign of the universe well knew why there was a "seventh" commandment needed in the in the Decalogue. A nations moral strength and true propsperity depends upon the sanctity of its home life.

Where this terrible "octopus" with its far reaching tenacles is dragging our nation is not hard to see. It is problem number one with the civil authorities and the end is not yet. A few more generations of broken homes and scattered families, will bring a state of lawlessness that make any nation ripe for judgment. The law of "sowing" and "reaping" will not be set aside to make room for infidelity, suspicion, hatred, strife and alienation between parents and children. Who is there among us that is not concerned about the far-reaching effects of violation of the "seventh" commandment of God? Very few sins are as ruinous to a nation as this one. Does the Church have the antidote, or is it helpless? Continued next week.

The Word of God

BY BRIAN V. SULLIVAN

We want to notice today the relationship between Jesus the Christ and John the Baptist.

Though they were cousins through their mothers, it appears that Jesus and John didn't meet until the baptism of Jesus at the age of thirty (Luke 3:23). There may have been many reasons for this, but the most clear is the fact that John spent the early years of his life in the wilderness.

Even before Jesus appeared in the sight of John, we find that John knew his role or function in relationship to Jesus. In Matthew 3 verse 11, he spoke of one greater or mightier than himself. One whose shoes, or shoe latchet, he was unworthy to unloose. Here was one so vastly greater than John, that John felt unworthy to be allowed to do even the smallest menial task for him. He said further, that Jesus would baptize you (that is, some of those John baptized) with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. Something which John did not do!

Recorded in John 1:30, is the reasoning expressed by John for his great respect of Jesus. "This is He of whom I said, after me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for He was before me". That reference can mean but one thing. Since John was six months older than Jesus according to Luke 1:36, it must refer to something other than that. Indeed it does! That sense in which Jesus was before John is found in his pre-birth state. As the Word or Logos of God in John 1:1. Christ truly was before John the Baptist, both in manner of position and in existence. So, here in John's declaration we have a reference to Jesus Divinity or Deity.

Though John recognized his relationship to Christ, there still needed to be a sign to confirm beyond doubt the fact. John was given advance notice of this sign. Let's read if from the text of John 1:33 -- "And I knew Him not: but He that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is He which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost." There was John's sign!

In Matthew 3:13 beginning we see that the sign was given and John knows without doubt that this Jesus is the Christ. In John 1:34, John said: "And I saw and bear record that this is the son of God." Next week, we will notice the birth of Christ and his early life, see you then.

Legion Branch 129 News

The regular meeting of Branch 129 was held Thursday, May 5, with President Mel Robertson in the chair. One new Ordinary member and two Associate members were initiated. The reports of the standing committees were read and short reports were presented by Car Draw Chairman, Bob Bannon and Building Committee Chairman, Cliff Dawson. Comrade Bob would like more ordinaries selling tickets on the camper. So, if you haven't picked some up yet, do so as soon as possible. It was suggested that the price of beer and liquor be raised at this time and after a heated discussion, a motion was made note to do so at this time. The matter will be brought forward again at the next meeting with figures to support the move. If the prices must go up, it would be better to raise them before the summer rather than after. This was election night and Comrade Roy Bates conducted the election in his usual calm and forthright manner.

The new executive is as follows: President, Mel Robertson, Immediate Past President, Don Johnston, 1st Vice-President, Allen Cooper, 2nd Vice, Bob Bannon, Sgt.-at-Arms, Ed Fujar, Secretary, Sylvia Sisson, Treasurer, Doug Armstrong, Service Officer, Lloyd Whittaker, Executive Council, M. Robertson, D. McLean, J. Congdon, D. Stirrett, C. Yateman and J. McDonagh. The installation of officers will take place at the next general meeting and Zone F4 Commander, Doug Worrall, will be present for the installation. Please make a special effort to attend this meeting. It will be the last before the summer break.

Branch 129 is sponsoring the Martin and Downs Circus at the Community Centre grounds, Thursday, June 9. There will be two shows at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. The advance tickets are $1.75 (adult or child). The price will be somewhat higher at the gate. The Carnival Committee Chairman will need plenty of help for July 20, so please offer your services early or if approached by a committee member be a willing helper.

Lunch will be served at the next General Meeting, June 2nd. This will be in the form of a pot luck supper so will each one ask the lady of the house to send along a contribution. Be sure to mark the bowls and platters, ladies.

IN MEMORIAM

HARRISON - In memory of Ella Esther and Walter Henry who departed this life October 17, 1966 and May 7, 1970.

Dearer still as the years depart,
They live forever in our hearts.

Lovingly remembered by Pearl, Murray, Clayton and families.

YOUNG - In loving memory of a dear sister, Cecila Young (nee Winn) who passed away May 14, 1972.

Her loved worn hands once busy,
Are folded now in sleep
And o'er her worn body,
The earth lies cold and deep
But the soul that was her essence
Lives on and we shall see her
When the master calls us home,
For all eternity.

Remembered by sister Mildred Wood and family.

Resolutions about area group homes

them. "We feel that you have insulted our intelligence as parents and as responsible adults," she said.

Along with Mrs. Gervais' letter was a letter of reference from the principal of the school which a number of the children are presently attending.

Mrs. Gervais, who was presented at Monday's meeting of the council, at that time told the council that their home operates as a family and group homes do not. She pointed out the range in age of the children, 8 to 17.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey, said that the county has a problem with the number of group homes that have started.

He said that the council has to be concerned because it isn't good for the economy when extra tax dollars have to be raised for education.

"I accept that the children are very normal", Reeve Fearrey said, "It is an emotional thing we are dealing with".

Mrs. Gervais told the council that they have had the 13 children since Christmas.

When asked how much money they get for keeping the children, Mrs. Gervais replied that they get paid enough.

RESOLUTIONS

The resolutions concerning group homes, passed at Monday's meeting, read:

That the application of Mr. & Mrs. Hector Gervais be held in abeyance for one month. This application for a family (group) home is considered with reservation by Council and before blessing by this body could be given the municipality would require endorsation from the School Board, a definite position from the Ministry of Social & Family Services on what the appropriate ratio is in our school system and our society.

Also, a position should be clarified as to the number of unrelated children in one normal family household, the number 10 in the Gervaise home would seem to be high to council. Also, as to what regulations that would apply to health regulations and fire protection on the proposed sight.

That the municipality inquire as to regulations that would allow the municipality to license group homes, etc., in Dysart et al."

Let's clear the air now

Tests show that decreased fuel economy in many new cars is the result of many factors. Here's how they compare: pollution control devices - six per cent*; increased weight to meet more stringent federal safety regulations, eight to 14 per cent; air conditioning - nine per cent and automatic transmission - six per cent.

(*an estimated average compared to pre-controlled 1967 models).

For a typical new-car driver, buying 585 gallons of gas at 85 cents a gallon, emission control equipment accounts for an extra annual expenditure of about $30.00.

Clearly, tampering with these devices just doesn't make economic sense.

Worse, tampering with or disconnecting the system can often lead to serious engine damage.

And car owners who tamper with the pollution control devices face reduced trade-in allowances to meet the dealer's cost of restoring the control to operating condition, a requirement under law.

The law is the Environmental Protection Act and by it, dealers who offer to sell cars with missing devices face fines up to $5,000.

It also permits maximum $5,000 fines for owners who tamper with the pollution control system on their cars and court convictions to date have resulted in fines up to $100.
